

NEVER SAY NEVER

There are three words I want every one of us to remember: Never say never.

Never assume there will never be another Democratic president. Never assume that because we won one election, the next election is secure. And never believe that someone else will do the work necessary to protect the principles we believe in.

The Democratic Party has changed dramatically from the party many of us knew years ago. We are deeply concerned about the influence of far-left and socialist ideas and what another change in leadership could mean for our country.

That is why complacency is not an option.

If we care about secure borders, individual liberty, public safety, our veterans, limited government, and the Constitution, then we have a responsibility to stay involved—not just during an election, but every day between elections.

And now, it is time to get back to work.

We will be back at work on August 11, and our TAC meetings resume September 1.

We are already preparing our Voter Guide to help voters understand the candidates and make informed decisions at the ballot box. But our organization cannot do this work alone.

We need you.

We need you at our meetings and luncheons. We need volunteers. We need you to bring friends and neighbors into the conversation. And we need your donations to help fund voter education, outreach, communications, and the programs that make our work possible.

Every person matters. Every volunteer matters. Every contribution matters.

The elections ahead will determine the direction of our country. We cannot predict what will happen—but we can determine what we will do about it.

We will organize. We will educate. We will participate. We will vote.

America's future requires citizens willing to stand up for what they believe in.

This is our call to duty.

Never say never.

Sincerely,

President Joy Miedecke
